STAFF REPORT November 10, 2021

NOMINATIONS TO THE TACOMA REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

General Procedural Notes:

The property on today's agenda is nominated to the Tacoma Register of Historic Places.

Tacoma Register listing follows procedures defined in 13.07.050, and consists of a minimum of two separate Commission meetings. The initial meeting determines whether the property meets the threshold criteria in the ordinance for age and integrity. If the Commission finds that the age and integrity standards are met, then the Commission may move to have the nomination scheduled for a public hearing and comment period, at which the public may enter comments into the record for consideration. Following the comment period, the Commission may deliberate on the nomination for up to 45 days before recommending to City Council listing on the register, or denying the nomination.

The purpose of this review is to determine whether the nominated property meets the threshold criteria and should be scheduled for public testimony at a public hearing.

AGENDA ITEM 4A: 1219 S. 13th St. (Henry J. and Nettie J. Craig Asberry House)

Marshall McClintock, Historic Tacoma

BACKGROUND

This house was built by contractors Benjamin F. Wood and David Garrett in 1887 and is a remaining example of the initial settlement of Tacoma's emerging Hilltop neighborhood. It is also an example of the Gable Front and Wing subtype of the National Folk form, a vernacular house form. It was built for William H. and Alida G. Jones, who lived here from 1888 to 1892. However, its major significance comes from it being the longtime residence of Henry Joseph and Nettie Craig Jones Asberry from 1903 until 1966. The Asberrys were among the early leaders of Tacoma's and Washington's emerging African-American community, and Nettie Asberry would play a pivotal role in early 20th Century civil rights in Tacoma and the Pacific Northwest.

In 1893 Henry bought an interest in the Tacoma Hotel Barbershop, and by 1895 he had purchased the whole business from Gottleib Yaeger. He would operate the barbershop for the next 44 years. Since the Tacoma Hotel was the premier hotel in the city until destroyed by fire in 1935, Henry cut and shaved many famous visitors, including Mark Twain, President William Taft, then Vice President Calvin Coolidge, William Rockefeller and many others.

When Nettie came to Tacoma, she became the organist and music director for the Allen AME Church. For some 50 years, she taught hundreds of children of all races to play the piano in the music room of her home. Washington's African American women's club movement began in 1908 with Nettie organizing the Clover Leaf Art Club, in Tacoma, to create an exhibit of needlecraft and artwork of black women in Pierce County. Nettie would go on to start a number of improvement clubs, in 1917 she became a charter member of the Washington State Federation of Colored Women's Organizations, for which she would serve as president and participate on many of its committees. Eventually the Clover Leaf Club would be renamed the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs. Today The Asberry Cultural Club of Tacoma continues Nettie Asberry's legacy as part of the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs (TCACWC). In 1970, Gov. Dan Evans dedicated the new Tacoma Association of Colored Women's Clubs building. Its music room, which houses her library and instruments, is named in her honor.

In 1909 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) was formed. Nettie and Henry Asberry became two of the founders of the Tacoma chapter of the NAACP. Nettie also helped establish branches in Seattle, Spokane, and Portland, OR, as well as cities in Canada and Alaska. In 1943, The Crisis, the official magazine of the NAACP, published an account of her achievements and listed her as one of the "First Ladies of Colored America."

At the age of 101, Nettie left her beloved home of 63 years at 1219 North 13th Street, moving to a nursing home. She died two years later in 1968 at the age of 103 and is buried with Henry in Tacoma's Oakwood Hill Cemetery. The following year, Mayor A. L. Rasmussen proclaimed May 11, 1969, as Nettie Asberry Day in Tacoma. Nettie Asberry's papers are held in Special Collections (Accession No. 1081-002) of the University of Washington Libraries. The Washington State Historical Society holds additional Asberry artifacts, including the prize-winning Battenberg lace opera coat as well as Henry Asberry's collection of shaving brushes and mugs that survived the Tacoma Hotel fire. In addition, the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Club holds books, music and other artifacts in its collection.

As part of the 2021-23 biennium budget, the Washington State Legislature awarded the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs (TCACWC) an appropriation of $919,000.00 through the Department of Commerce's Local Projects program to acquire the historic Asberry Home Site for future renovation and public benefit. Forterra NW joined the TCACWC as a partner on the request, and is acting as the fiscal and project manager for the TCACWC for the duration of the transaction. Plans are underway for assessing the condition of the house and developing a restoration plan.

The house was listed as a "priority property for future nomination" in the Hilltop Neighborhood Multiple Property Nomination of Tacoma's 1993 Cultural Resources Inventory. This nomination is the result of a years' long partnership between the Historic Preservation Office, TCACWC, Historic Tacoma, Forterra, and the current property owner. The yard is included in this nomination since it was the setting for many of Nettie Asberry's recitals and other cultural activities.

The house and yard are nominated under the following criteria:

- Criterion A as a remaining Territorial residence from the earliest period of the Hilltop neighborhood's development and associated with Tacoma's early African-American community.
- Criterion B for its association with Henry and Nettie Asberry, noted early leaders of Tacoma's African-American community.

REQUESTED ACTION

Determination of whether the property nominated to the Tacoma Register of Historic Places appears to meet the threshold criteria for nomination, and if so, scheduling the nominations for public hearing. The commission may forward all or part of the nomination for future consideration.

EFFECTS OF NOMINATION

- Future changes to the exterior will require approval of the Landmarks Preservation Commission prior to those changes being made, to ensure historical and architectural appropriateness.
- Unnecessary demolition of properties listed on the Tacoma Register of Historic Places is strongly discouraged by the municipal code, and requires approval of the Landmarks Preservation Commission.
- Future renovations of listed on the Tacoma Register of Historic Places may qualify for the Special Tax Valuation property tax incentive.

STANDARDS

The threshold criteria for Tacoma Register listing are listed at 13.07.040B(1), and include:

- 1. Property is at least 50 years old at the time of nomination; and,
- 2. The property retains integrity of location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association such that it is able to convey its historical, cultural, or architectural significance.

ANALYSIS

- 1. At 134 years-old the property meets the age threshold criterion.
- 2. The Asberry house maintains a significant degree of integrity with regard to its location, setting, feeling and association. While it retains its original massing, pattern and overall design, it has lost significant integrity of design, materials and workmanship with the loss of original window sashes and surrounds and some changes in fenestration.

3. This house is of particular importance in representing Tacoma's African-American community. Currently the Silas Webber house in the North Slope Historic District is the only other African American landmark on the City's Landmarks Register.

RECOMMENDATION

Recommended language for scheduling a public hearing:

I move that the Landmarks Preservation Commission adopt the analysis as findings and schedule the 1219 S. 13th St., nomination for a public hearing and future consideration at a tentative hearing date of [December 8, 2021].

Recommended language for declining to schedule a public hearing for one or more components of the nomination:

I move that the Landmarks Preservation Commission find that [cite specific elements or properties that should be excluded] do not meet the threshold criteria (describe) and deny the nomination for 1219 S. 13th St.

AGENDA ITEM 4B: Proposed College Park Neighborhood Historic District

Staff

BACKGROUND

On May 3, 2021, a resident of the "College Park" Neighborhood near the campus of the University of Puget Sound submitted a written request for consideration of the neighborhood as a historic special review district overlay zone. This would create a new Tacoma Register Historic District. It is south of the Proctor Business District and north of Sixth Avenue commercial corridor.

The district is nominated as an example of a cohesive neighborhood that reflects the broad patterns and history of Tacoma as well as for the distinctive characteristics of its structures, which embody early twentieth century architecture. For an overview of the proposal and answers to Frequently Asked Questions, please visit www.cityoftacoma.org/collegeparkHD.

PRIOR ACTIONS

	Review and authorize opinion survey

On October 13, the Commission approved a final format and content for a survey to be released to collect public opinion on the proposed College Park Historic District. The survey was conducted online and via postage paid return mailer. For the online survey, respondents could access it via scanning the postcard with a smartphone or visiting www.cityoftaccoma.org/collegeparkHD, and links were posted to the applicant's website as well as by other individuals to their private social media accounts.

The online survey used surveymonkey.com and was accessible from October 18 to November 4, 2021. The postcard mailers were sent on October 21, 2021 and collected until November 3.

Summary Results

A spreadsheet of all responses, including comments, is included in the Board Packet. In addition, a PDF of postcards received is also included in the packet.

Total Responses	340
Online survey responses	215
Mailer survey responses	125

Location of respondents (self-identified)

Responses from property owners within the proposed district	207
Responses from renters within proposed district	11
Responses from those who live near to the proposed district	110
Responses from those who are not within or near the proposed district	11
No indication or blank	1

Question Response

Q: Do you support the proposed district being established?

	All responses	Own within district	Rent within district	Reside near to boundaries but outside of district	Do not reside within or near proposed district	No response
Yes	178	120	6	46	6
No	134	78	4	47	5
Neutral	23	8		15
Don't have enough information	1	1
No response	4		1	2		1
	340	207	11	110	11	1

Overall, 52.3% of the respondents support the proposal, while 39.4% oppose it, and 6.7% responded as neutral.

Among property owners responding within the district, 58.4% support the proposal, while 37.6% oppose the proposal and 3.8% were neutral. Among 11 responses from those identifying as renters within the district, 54.4% expressed support and 36.3% were opposed.

Among those not residing or owning property within the district, support was lower. For those identifying as living near the district, 40.9% expressed support, whereas 43.6% are opposed. Eleven responses were received from those identifying as not within or near the boundaries; of these slightly over half (54.4%) expressed support, and 45.4% are opposed.

Qualitative Responses

Both the online survey and the postcard mailer included a space for narrative responses. Some of the themes from those comments is summarized below, and the comments themselves are in the spreadsheet included in the packet.

In Support

Statements received in support of the district revolved around several themes, including:

- Neighborhood is historically significant/unique/should be preserved
- Historic districts are good for the economy/city
- Concerned about impacts from density/detached single family character should be preserved
- Moved to the neighborhood for its character

In opposition

Statements received in opposition to the district revolved around several themes, including:

- Concerns with additional regulations/burdens on homeowners
- The proposal will contribute to or perpetuate existing housing problems
- An historic district will would be exclusionary, or perpetuate inequity and racist history
- The area is not significant, special or unique
- A historic district will increase expenses and taxes
- The effects are unclear

Survey Limitations/Caveats

As the Commission reviews these results, there are several aspects of the survey responses to keep in mind.

- 1. The results are self-reported. For example, respondents were to self-identify whether they live and/or own property within the district. This has not been verified against parcel data.
- 2. In at least 17 cases, it appears that members of the same household responded separately. This includes 13 supportive responses and 4 opposed. While the survey did not provide any direction to applicants other than to respond either online or by mail, there was no limitation placed on responses per household. The survey software generally prevented multiple entries from the same IP address. Staff made note of these instances, as it was specifically mentioned by the Planning Commission. In three cases (one supportive response and two opposed), it appears that the same individual responded twice.
- 3. According to staff count, there are approximately 13 responses with incomplete or missing names, and 25 responses where the address is missing or incomplete.

NEXT STEPS

On October 13, 2021, the Commission adopted a revised review schedule for the College Park Historic District. The revised schedule is below:

Date	Subject
6/23/21	Introduction of nomination request; discussion of review schedule
7/21/21	Adoption of review schedule; approve public notice of nomination
8/11/21	Review district significance, first public information session
8/25/21	Review proposed boundaries, buildings inventory, design guidelines
9/8/21	Second public information session
10/13/21	Recap of previous discussions; discussion of opinion survey; revise review schedule
10/20/21	Release opinion survey
11/3/21	Survey response deadline
11/10/21	Discuss results of survey; discussion of preliminary recommendations
12/8/21	Discussion of preliminary recommendations
1/12/22	Adopt preliminary recommendations; set hearing date
2/9/22	Public Hearing (tentative)
2/23/22	Review of hearing testimony; discussion of issues and observations
3/9/22	Discuss findings and recommendations
3/23/22	Adopt Findings and Recommendations

Under this revised schedule, the commission is set to review the survey responses and begin to discuss a set of preliminary recommendations for public comment at a hearing tentatively scheduled for February 9, 2022.

Staff recommends that the Commission begin to discuss the content and scope of the preliminary recommendations, which should include:

- The content of the nomination form, and district significance
- Proposed boundaries
- General regulatory framework

Nomination and District significance (reviewed on August 11 and October 13)

Based on the Commission's guidance, the nomination appears eligible under the criteria for designation to the Tacoma Register of Historic Places, although additional narrative context could be added to benefit the nomination.

It meets Criterion A as as a cohesive and highly-intact neighborhood of dwellings that is significantly associated with and reflect Tacoma's early development period, and that represents the broad patterns of social and economic history of Tacoma. The nomination focuses on the themes of railroad era development and speculation, the streetcar system and period of rapid economic growth prior to 1940, and the World War II period. Under this criterion, the Commission has directed that other historical narratives or themes that also are relevant to the district should be included, including the practice of redlining. This can be included in a revised nomination.

The Commission's guidance is that it also appears to meet Criterion C as an area that embodies the distinctive characteristics of dwellings built in Tacoma from the late 19th to mid-20th century.

Proposed Boundaries (discussed August 25 and October 13)

Staff provided additional discussion on boundaries on October 13, noting that the boundaries are those already designated as a National Register Historic District and reflect a combination of factors, including development history, arterials, zoning boundaries, plats, and other factors, such as the presence of the university campus.

The data from the survey is not yet geocoded, if the Commission desires to have this information as it considers its recommendations for boundaries.

General regulatory framework and district requirements (guidelines, design review thresholds, exemptions) (discussed August 25 and October 13)

The general parameters of historic district requirements are well established, including:

- New construction and exterior work to contributing properties requiring a permit requires design review
- Work exempt from permits, interior work, alterations to noncontributing properties, and landscaping are exempt

 Additional considerations, such as relaxing requirements for alterations to secondary elevations and certain items like windows, has been proposed.

ACTION REQUESTED

Feedback and direction. Staff recommends that the Commission review the survey responses and provide direction regarding next steps, including a framework for a preliminary recommendation to be discussed on December 8 and January 12.

SPECIAL TAX VALUATION

BACKGROUND

WAC 254-20 enables local governments adopt local legislation to provide special valuation of historic properties that have been rehabilitated. With regard to the application review process, state law authorizes local historic review boards to determine:

- 1. Whether the property is included within a class of historic property determined eligible for special valuation by the local legislative authority under an ordinance or administrative rule (in Tacoma, this means properties defined as City Landmarks);
- 2. Whether the property has been rehabilitated at a cost equal to or exceeding 25% of the assessed improvement value at the beginning of the project within twenty-four months prior to the date of application; and
- 3. Whether the property has not been altered in any way which adversely affects those elements which qualify it as historically significant.

If the local review board finds that the property satisfies all three of the above requirements, then it shall on behalf of the local jurisdiction, enter into an agreement with the owner, which, at a minimum, includes the provisions set forth in WAC 254-20-120. Upon execution of said agreement between the owner and the local review board, the local review board shall approve the application.

Per TMC 1.42, the Tacoma Landmarks Commission is the local body that approves applications for Special Tax Valuation.

AGENDA ITEM 5A: 2312 N 29th St (Individual Landmark)

Carol Goforth, owner

ANALYSIS

Property Eligibility: Contributing
Rehabilitation Cost Claimed: $134,785.88
Assessed Improvement Value Prior to Rehabilitation: $102,100
Rehabilitation Percentage of Assessed Value: 132%

Project Period: 3/12/2019 – 3/12/21 (project period adjusted to required 24 month window)

Appropriateness of Rehabilitation: Interior/in-kind administrative approval

RECOMMENDATION

Staff has reviewed the itemized expense sheet per the Commission bylaws for STV cost eligibility. The project period for the initial application was longer than the twenty-four month period defined by WAC 254-20. Staff reviewed the expense sheet for an adjusted period of March 2019 – March 2021. Staff recommends approval of this revised application for the amount of $124,119.

Recommended language for approval:

I move that the Landmarks Preservation Commission approve the Special Tax Valuation application for 2312 N 29th St. for $124,119.

AGENDA ITEM 6A: Bylaws, Guidelines and Inventory Amendments

Staff

Once annually, the Commission may review and amend Commission bylaws and district guidelines and inventories. Staff proposes the following changes:

Bylaws

Appendix II: Physical Description Narrative

Located at 1219 South 13th Street in Tacoma's Hilltop neighborhood, the Asberry House sits at the west end of a large 8, 125 sq. ft. lot at the corner of South 13th and South M Streets. Built in 1887, this house is an example of the Gable Front and Wing subtype of the National Folk form, a simple vernacular house form popular from about 1850 until about 1930. This common form is sometimes called Upright-and-Wing, Temple & Wing, Gable Front or simply Farmhouse. Its occurrence followed the expansion of the railroads across the continent, which made lumber and other building materials widely and cheaply available.<sup>1</sup>

The house faces south to South 13th Street. The main section has a one-room wide, two-story gable-front, roughly 22 ft. by 20 ft., with a moderate roof pitch and narrow, projecting eaves with undecorated verges. At a right angle to the main section's east side is a one and a half story, side-gabled wing. The wing's roof ridge is lower than that of the main section. At the rear of the main section is a short, single story, gabled extension with an enclosed porch on its east side. The cladding is mixed. The gables are clad in an alternating linear pattern of wood shingles. The walls are clad in wood shiplap, perhaps with some replacement, and narrow corner boards. A front porch with a low, hipped roof and bellcast eaves follows the L of the main section and wing. It is supported by thin, floor-to-ceiling Tuscan columns with Doric capitals and no base or balustrade between. The porch floor is one to two feet above the ground and reached by three concrete steps with a metal rail. The foundation is concrete block.

The main and porch roofs are clad in composition singles. A single brick, exterior chimney is attached to the center of the east end of the wing. This chimney retains its original decorative top. A second chimney, now removed, rose through the main portion of the house at about the middle of the roof ridge.

South Elevation

The front facing gable has an undecorated rake setting off alternating bands of decorative wood shingles. From the pitch, four ranks of half-cove shingles are followed by three ranks of round shingles and single rank of square shingles. This followed by three more ranks of half-cove shingles and a rank of square shingles. The last band consists to two ranks of round shingles and single rank of square shingles. The gable features a centered, diamond window, currently covered, with simple framing.

At the second floor is a centered, vinyl three part window with horizontal sliding sashes. The surround is narrow, plain molding with no sill. This large window replaces the two separated, narrow double hung windows originally found here and seen in historic photographs (See Fig. 15 in Appendix IV).

The first floor of the front gable has a large, three-section vinyl window with a plain molding surround west of the entry. Historic photographs indicate that this originally a large picture window with transom (See Fig. 7 in Appendix IV). The main entry to the east has a replacement, six-panel front door with a transom window above.

The first floor wing features a large, single pane picture window about the same size as that by the front door. Historic photos show a centered, narrow double-hung window comparable in size to the second story windows on the east side of the wing (See Fig. 15 in Appendix IV).

East Elevation

The east elevation is dominated by the wing. The exterior brick chimney is centered on the façade. The gable has undecorated verges and patterned shingling like that in the south gable. At the second floor, narrow, double-hung vinyl window are located on either side of the chimney. The framing is simple and likely replacement. On the first floor, a modest-sized, fixed picture window is located south of the chimney. To the north of the chimney is a single panel, single leaf door with a small stoop and two steps. Historic photos show narrow, double hung windows in these locations (See Fig. 16 in Appendix IV.

To the north beyond the wing is an enclosed, shed-roofed rear porch extending from the rear wing of recent vintage. It has single panel, single-leaf door with small stoop at the south end. The rest is glazed panels set on what appears to be a plywood lower wall.

West Elevation

The west elevation is dominated by a pair of replacement horizontal sliding, vinyl windows with narrow, plain molding surrounds on both the first and second floors. On the second floor, the southernmost window is slightly longer than the northern window. On the first floor, the southernmost window is a fixed picture window. The northern window on that floor matches the one above. The surrounds are all narrow, plain molding. In the one-story rear extension is a small fixed window.

North Elevation

The gable of the main section is clad in wood shiplap with a centered narrow, small double-hung window. On the first floor, the rear gabled wing extends from the main section about 12 feet. There are two narrow, double-hung windows toward the east and west sides.

Appendix III: Statement of Significance

The house at 1219 South 13th Street was built by contractors Benjamin F. Wood and David Garrett in 1887 and is a remaining example of the initial settlement of Tacoma's emerging Hilltop neighborhood. It was built for William H. and Alida G. Jones, who lived here from 1888 to 1892. However, its major significance comes from it being the longtime residence of Henry Joseph and Nettie Craig Jones Asberry from 1903 until 1966. The Asberrys were among the early leaders of Tacoma's and Washington's emerging African-American community, and Nettie Asberry would play a pivotal role in early 20th Century civil rights in Tacoma and the Pacific Northwest. The yard is included in this nomination since it was the setting for many of Nettie Asberry's recitals and other cultural activities

This house is listed as a "priority property for future nomination" in the Hilltop Neighborhood Multiple Property Nomination of Tacoma's 1993 Cultural Resources Inventory. The period of significance is 1887 to 1968. The house and yard are eligible for the Tacoma Register of Historic Places under the following criteria:

- Criterion A as a remaining Territorial residence from the earliest period of the Hilltop neighborhood's development and associated with Tacoma's early African-American community.
- Criterion B for its association with Henry and Nettie Asberry, noted early leaders of Tacoma's African-American community.

The Asberry house maintains a significant degree of integrity with regard to its location, setting, feeling and association. While it retains its original massing, pattern and overall design, it has lost significant integrity of design, materials and workmanship with the loss of original window sashes and surrounds and some changes in fenestration.

The National Register of Historic Places has provided guidance on how to evaluate the integrity of a property. It acknowledges that negative changes to buildings do occur over time and that these must be weighed carefully. Regarding Criteria A (historic events) and B (historic persons), under which the Asberry house is nominated, it states that a building "...important for association with an event, historical pattern, or person(s) ideally might retain some features of all seven aspects of integrity: location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association." While the removal of original window sashes and frames and some fenestration is lamentable, the house still retains substantial integrity, especially in terms of the porch and the wing that housed Nettie's music room. The National Register Bulletin states that basic integrity test for Criteria A and B is "whether a historical contemporary would recognize the property as it exists today." A historical contemporary, in this case someone from 1888 or from 1903, would easily recognize this house as it exists today.

Moreover, territorial buildings are rare in the state and the city, especially in the Hilltop neighborhood. Indeed, this house would be the oldest structure listed in Hilltop and one of only eleven individually listed pre-1890 buildings on the Tacoma Register. Located as it is just within the boundaries of the new Hilltop Mixed-Use zoning district, this house is almost assured of destruction without historic designation. Additionally, this house is of particular importance in representing Tacoma's African-American community. Currently the Silas Webber house in the North Slope Historic District is the only other building directly associated with that community on the city's Landmarks Register.

As part of the 2021-23 biennium budget, the Washinton State Legislature awarded the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs (TCACWC) an appropriation of $919,000.00 through the Department of Commerce's Local Projects program to acquire the historic Asberry Home Site for future renovation and public benefit. Forterra NW joined the TCACWC as a partner on the request, and is acting as the fiscal and project manager for the TCACWC for the duration of the transaction. Plans are underway for assessing the condition of the house and developing a restoration plan.

Architectural Style

This house is an example of the Gable Front and Wing subtype of the National Folk form, a vernacular house form popular from about 1850 until 1930 that followed the expansion of the railroads across the continent. Lumber availability and light balloon framing made these simple, relatively inexpensive houses a common sight in cities as well as rural areas. The gable front with wing variety is descended from earlier Greek Revival houses. It is characterized by narrow width, usually only one room wide, and one to two stories with relatively steep roof pitches with an additional side-gabled wing added at right angles to the gabled front. These houses were often stepped in shape with the roof ridge of the wing being lower than that of the front gable portion. A shed-or hipped roof porch was typically placed within the L made by the two wings. The porches often retained Neoclassical details, such as the simple Tuscan, floor-to-ceiling columns with Doric order capitals seen on the Asberry house. <sup>4</sup>

Neighborhood Context

The land on which Tacoma sits has been home to the Puyallup people since time immemorial. The area's wealth of natural resources attracted Euro-Americans to establish settlements here, including Job Carr (1813 – 1887), a Union Army veteran. Carr settle on Commencement Bay in 1864 in what is now "Old Town". In 1873 the Northern Pacific Railroad (NPRR) selected this area as the terminus for their transcontinental railroad. In 1975 NPRR established a city site, New Tacoma, about two miles south of Carr's settlement. New Tacoma developed rapidly as a railway and shipping locus.

Early speculators, such as Clinton P. Ferry and George P. Riley, purchased land up the hill from the growing waterfront. Hilltop was the first residential neighborhood to develop outside of the downtown core. The residents during its early development were almost all immigrants to Tacoma whether from other countries or other states. As the forest gave way to residences, the Hilltop's homes were soon joined by community institutions such as schools, social clubs, and churches. The residents depended on their feet for transportation, so stores and social activities were typically located within easy walking distance from the homes. The construction of a cable car line up S. 11th Street and down S. 13th Street in 1891 and a streetcar line on M. L. King Way hastened the pace of the Hilltop's development.<sup>5</sup>

From 1900 to 1930, Tacoma experienced a huge growth in population. Hilltop absorbed a large share of working class immigrants arriving in Tacoma from throughout the United States and the world hoping to benefit from the city's well-publicized economic opportunities. The extension of city-wide trolley lines throughout the Hilltop spurred the construction of homes farther from the areas of first expansion and the commercial and industrial center of Tacoma. Those trends continued during the post-WWII era up to today.

House Construction and History

Construction of the house at 1219 South 13th Street began September 5, 1887 and was complete by November 9, 1887. It was built for William H. & Alida G. Jones by Benjamin F. Wood and David Garrett, both listed as carpenters in the city directories of the time. Mr. Garrett appears to have left Tacoma soon after the house was built and little information has been found about him.

Benjamin Franklin Wood ( $^{\sim}1832 - 1903$ ) was born in Westfield, N.Y., but had moved to Minnesota by 1861. He served in the Union Army during the Civil War from its beginning in 1861 until 1866, attaining the rank of sergeant. He was a long time member of the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR). His wife, Lucinda, died in 1879. He came to Tacoma in 1883 where he worked as building contractor. He died in Tacoma in 1903.

From 1887 until 1892, this was the home of William H. and Alida G. Jones and their four sons, Harald, Carl, Jaspar, and Herman. William was born in 1853 in Oregon, his parents having come from Indiana and Ohio. Alida was born in 1861 in Wisconsin. They married in 1876. William was in the lumber trades, being listed in several censuses as a "sawyer," a semi-skilled, working class job. While in Tacoma he worked for Western Mill Company. The Joneses moved around the Puget Sound region. They appear to have lived in Tacoma from ~1878 until ~1880 and then again from ~1887 to ~1892. By 1910 they lived in Seattle and finally moved to Centralia, WA, by 1920 where they are both buried.

The City Directory shows no listings for this address from 1893 and 1894. In 1895 James and Alice Holliston lived in the house. James was a butcher with a shop at 1303 South J St., while Alice taught art and sold art supplies at 1024 S. Yakima St. In 1897, Myron H. Woolsey lived I the house. He famously claimed to be Jessie James' son. In 1901, Carl Busching, a machinist, and his wife Mary and four children resided at 1219. In 1902, Azlie E. Johnston and her sons James R. and Marion R. lived at the house.

In 1903 Henry and Nettie Asberry bought the house from Charles E. Gibson and his wife for $1,500.9 Henry was the proprietor of the Tacoma Hotel barbershop, one of the most prestigious in town, from 1892 until hotel burned in 1935. He died at the house in 1939. Nettie taught music in her music room in the house until ~ 1955 and would continue to live there until 1966. She died in 1968 at the age of 103.

The house was the location not only of Nettie Asberry's music teaching but the yard was often the location for her students' recitals and concerts. The house was the location where Nettie organized the Mozart Club, a youth music appreciation club. In 1908 it would be where she organized the Clover Leaf Club, which would earn a gold medal for best women's exhibit at the 1909 Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in Seattle. The Clover Leaf Club would eventually be renamed the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs that exists today. The house was the location for much of Henry and Nettie's

Henry Joseph Asberry

Little information is currently available on Henry Asberry's early years. He was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, in 1862, the year Union troops liberated the city. No biographical materials mention whether Henry's parents were free or enslaved at his birth. At the outbreak of the Civil War, New Orleans had the largest population of free African-American, so it is possible they were already free. The United States Civil War and Later Pension Index does list a pension in 1869 for a "Henry Asberry" from Louisiana who served in the 79th Colored Infantry during the Civil War. <sup>10</sup> This might be Henry's father or perhaps another relative.

Henry attended school until the age of 15 with some years at Straight University in New Orleans. Straight was founded by the American Missionary Society of the Congregational Church in 1868 to educate recently freed African Americans. It offered study from the elementary to the college level. Today it is part of Dillard University in New Orleans. 11

Henry began his barbering career in 1884 at the St. Charles Hotel in New Orleans. <sup>12</sup> The St. Charles was the premier hotel in New Orleans for some 135 years, and Henry would have worked in the hotel's second building, a massive Greek Revival structure near Canal Street. Although it's unknown how long he worked there, the St. Charles would have been a prestigious recommendation anywhere else in America. Following the St. Charles, Henry worked as a barber on the Anchor Line, a steamboat company with riverboats plying the Mississippi River. <sup>13</sup>

At some point, Henry operated a barbershop in Hot Springs, Arkansas, for a "few years" but left because of "...conditions threatening the welfare of an industrious and independent citizen...".<sup>14</sup> By 1888, Henry was in St. Paul, Minnesota, where he barbered at the Merchants Hotel, the premier hotel in that city at that time. <sup>15</sup> While there, Henry barbered Col. Chauncey Wright Griggs, one the wealthiest men in St. Paul. Henry stated he heard of Tacoma and its opportunities from Griggs. <sup>16</sup> In 1888, Griggs and two other investors purchased 80,000 acres of timberland near Tacoma from the Northern Pacific Railroad, which would become the Tacoma & St. Paul Lumber Company. By 1889 the Griggs had relocated to Tacoma.

In 1890 Henry arrived in Tacoma. He first works for F. Fritz Keeble, the African-American proprietor of the Hamman Turkish Baths, located in the basement of the Hotel Gandolfo at the corner of Pacific and South 13th Street.<sup>17</sup> Mr. Keeble was a leading figure in Tacoma's early African-American community, and his bathhouse offered a range of services for women and men including barbering. At a time when few houses, apartments or even hotels had baths, public bathhouses provided an important city service.

In 1893 Henry bought an interest in the Tacoma Hotel Barbershop, and by 1895 he had purchased the whole business from Gottleib Yaeger. He would operate the barbershop for the next 44 years. Since the Tacoma Hotel was the premier hotel in the city until destroyed by fire in 1935, Henry cut and shaved many famous visitors, including Mark Twain, President William Taft, then Vice President Calvin Coolidge, William Rockefeller and many others. Local businessmen and politicians were a common presence: real estate magnate R. E. Anderson, Gen. J. M. Ashton, U. S. Senators Addison Foster and Wesley L. Jones as well as his old customer Col. Chauncey W. Griggs along with his son and grandson. <sup>18</sup> Frequent local customers purchased made-to-order shaving mugs and brushes with their initials. Some of these mugs and brushes survived the 1935 fire and are now donated to the Washington State Historical Society.

Henry married Nettie Craig Jones on February 23, 1895. Initially they lived at 1022 South Tacoma Avenue until 1896. From 1897 until 1902, they lived at 1012 South 12th Street. On August 12, 1902, they purchased the house at 1219 South 13th Street from Charles Gibson for $1500. 19 Henry would die at home in 1939. 20

In addition to barbering, Henry was heavily involved in real estate. His barbershop was an idea place to pick up business and real estate news. At his death, he left his wife Nettie a considerable amount of property. From 1903 to 1911, he owned and operated the Pacific Soap Company producing Asberry's Tar Shampoo.<sup>21</sup> In addition, he was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist (902 Division Ave.). He chaired the Allen AME Red Cross Auxiliary along with Nettie. He was a member and Grand Master of Puget Sound Lodge No. 3211 of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows. Henry was a long-time member of Cassia Lodge #5, Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons (F. & A.M.). From 1917 to 1923, he was Grand Master for the State of Washington, Prince Hall, F &A.M.<sup>22, 23</sup>

Nettie Craig Jones Asberry

Nettie Craig was born July 15, 1865, in Leavenworth, Kansas. She was the daughter of William P. Wallingford (1820 – 1875), an immigrant British farmer and slave-owner, and Violet (1835 – 1906), his former slave. Wallingford had moved his household from Kentucky to Missouri in 1837. He was married three times and fathered some 17 children, including six by Violet. Nettie was the youngest of these six children, and the only one born free. Since Missouri was a border state, it was exempt from Lincoln's 1863 Emancipation Proclamation. Slavery was abolished in Missouri on January 11, 1865, when Violet was about three months pregnant with Nettie. Violet appears to have immediately left Wallingford and moved to Kansas for Nettie's birth where she may have joined her mother Jemina (Jemima?) Craig.

Jemina and Violet adopted the surname Craig upon their freedom, a possible reference to the Craig plantation in Kentucky where she was born in 1835.<sup>24</sup>

In 1858, a group of anti-slavery Free Staters drafted and adopted the Leavenworth Constitution for Kansas during the period called "Bleeding Kansas." The most radical of four proposed state constitutions, it banned slavery and recognized African-American's full citizenship. During and after the Civil War, many refugee African-Americans settled in Leavenworth, and by 1865 some 12,000 lived there.

At the age of eight, Nettie began studying piano, for which she showed remarkable ability. It is unclear how Nettie and her family managed her education and music training. At this time few women and only a tiny number of African Americans, mostly men, attended college. However, Nettie continued her music studies in Leavenworth at the Kansas Conservatory of Music and Elocution, and on June 12, 1883, she received a "Teacher of Music" degree from the Kansas Conservatory. <sup>25</sup>, <sup>26</sup>

By 1870, Violet Craig had married Taylor Turner, and by 1881 the family had moved to the African-American town of Nicodemus, Kansas. Nicodemus is now a National Historic Site as the only remaining western town established by African Americans after the Civil War. Nettie taught school and music there. During this time, she also attended the Kansas Normal School Institute, but it is not clear if she received a degree. <sup>27,28</sup> She also taught in Kansas City and Denver as well as playing in churches and directing choirs.

In 1890, she married Albert J. Jones in Kansas, and the newlyweds traveled to Seattle. Albert worked as a barber, and Nettie became the first organist and music director for Seattle's First African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church.<sup>29</sup> For unknown reasons, Nettie had returned to her family in Leavenworth, KS, by November, 1893.<sup>30</sup>

Albert meanwhile took a job with the Franklin coal mine in King County, WA. He is among the 37 miners who die on August 25, 1894, in the Franklin Mine fire, the second worst mining disaster in Washington history. Nettie received funds from the fund set up for the widows and orphans of the disaster.<sup>31</sup> Along with several others, she brought a suit against the mine owners, but the court ultimately dismissed them.<sup>32</sup> During this time Nettie remained in Leavenworth.

&lt;sup>26</sup> It does not appear that Nettie received a Ph.D. degree from the conservatory. Her diploma does not mention "Doctor of Philosophy" but "Teacher of Music." Nettie does not appear to have used "Dr." or "Ph.D." before or after her name. The "First Ladies of Colored America" series in the NAACP's magazine The Crisis (February, 1943, pg. 50) refers to her as receiving a "B. Mus. Degree". The first mention of her receiving a Ph.D. occurs in a 1961 Tacoma News Tribune article (07/23/1961.Pg. A8) and is repeated in subsequent articles over the years. Nettie's original diploma is currently lost, but Ms. Antoinette Broussard, a Nettie Asberry relative, had pictures taken of it when it hung the Tacoma African-American Museum (1993 – 2005). It is possible that Nettie received an honorary degree at some point or that the community bestowed that title in recognition of her service and legacy.

She returned to Tacoma in February and married Henry Asberry on February 23, 1895. <sup>33</sup> Initially they lived at 1022 South Tacoma Avenue until 1896. From 1897 until 1902, they lived at 1012 South 12th Street. In 1903 they moved to 1219 South 13th Street. Nettie would live at this address for the next 63 years, leaving it at the age of 101.

Cultural work. In decades following the Civil War, a small but growing African-American middle class began to emerge and regarded its own existence as evidence of racial progress. This black Victorian elite understood its profound duty to "uplift the race" through education and culture by which African Americans as a whole would demonstrate cultural parity with whites. The result was a civil society of churches, literary and culture clubs, fraternal orders, and newspapers. Nettie Asberry's life in Tacoma exemplifies this historical trend.

When Nettie came to Tacoma, she became the organist and music director for the Allen AME Church. She was dedicated to teaching music, and she would become one of the best known music teachers in the city. <sup>34</sup> She spoke fluent French and German. For some 50 years, she taught hundreds of children of all races to play the piano in her music room at 1219 South 13th Street. She presented classes of 45 or more in recital each year. In 1902 she formed "The Mozart Club" for youth to explore classical music. <sup>35</sup> The music education of young people would remain a lifelong avocation.

From the mid-19th Century, the club movement provided American women with an avenue of education and community service. Many women's clubs emerged across the country, reaching a zenith between 1890 and 1920. As part of this development, middle class African-American women formed clubs focusing on social, literary and community service pursuits as well as women's suffrage and race issues. The exclusion of African American clubs from the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC), founded in 1890, resulted in the formation of the National Association of Colored Women (NACW) in 1896. Nettie Asberry would play a major role in this movement in Washington State.

Washington's African American women's club movement began in 1908 with Nettie organizing the Clover Leaf Art Club in Tacoma. She had heard that Seattle would host the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition in 1909, and that there would be a women's building. Sensing an opportunity to showcase the talents of the state's African-American women, she helped organize the Clover Leaf Arts Club to create an exhibit of needlecraft and artwork of black women in Pierce County. At the Exhibition the following year, the club and its members earned medals for their handiwork. Her sister, Martha Townsend, won a silver medal for a Battenberg lace opera coat while the paintings and ceramics of Matilda Baker won a bronze medal. Most importantly, their exhibit won the gold medal for best exhibit.

Nettie would go on to start a number of improvement clubs, and in 1917 they became charter members of the Washington State Federation of Colored Women's Organizations, for which she would serve as president and participate on many of its committees. Eventually the Clover Leaf Club would be renamed the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs.

In addition Nettie Asberry was a member of the Progressive Mother's Club of Tacoma and the Tacoma Inter-Racial Council. In 1918 she along with Henry helped organize and chaired the Allen AME Red Cross Auxiliary. In addition, she was instrumental in bringing a host of influential African Americans to Tacoma, including sociologist, historian and author W.E.B. DuBois, entrepreneur Madam C. J. Walker, composer and violinist Clarence C. White, tenor and composer Roland Hayes, author and educator James Weldon Johnson, journalist William Pickens, and suffragette and reformer Mary Burnett Talbert. In 1919 she started the Coleridge Taylor Musical Society, named in honor of the noted Black English composer. Today The Asberry Cultural Club of Tacoma continues Nettie Asberry's legacy as part of the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs (TCACWC).

Nettie Asberry was long associated with Allen AME, one of Tacoma's historic African-American congregations. From about the early 1940s, however, she was also a member of the Baha'i faith, which was founded in Iran in 1863 and espouses the spiritual unity of all humans.

Civil Rights. A growing tide of racial discrimination and disenfranchisement followed the end of Reconstruction in 1870, starting in the south but spreading nationwide. White-on-black race riots and lynching increased. An effective civil rights organization was needed to combat these, and in 1909 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) was formed. Concerned for their race and community, Nettie and Henry Asberry became two of the founders of the Tacoma chapter of the NAACP.

She submitted the Tacoma application, and when it received its charter in 1913, Tacoma's NAACP chapter became the first established west of the Rocky Mountains. Their first action was a mass meeting on September 19, 1913, in Tacoma of over 200 Black and White citizens protesting President Wilson's racial segregation of Federal workers. <sup>40</sup> In 1916, she helped organized a response to the showing in Tacoma of D. W. Griffiths' movie Birth of Nation, which lauded the Ku Klux Klan. Nettie was elected secretary of a mass meeting held at Allen AME Church. She drafted a letter to protest the movie and its racist message. <sup>41</sup> In 1918 she led the protest to the segregation of African American troops at Fort Lewis. She also led protests against the growing institution of segregated seating in Tacoma's theaters. Over the years, she wrote many newspaper articles and spoke on radio programs on civil rights issue.

In 1921, she helped organize the chapter's fund raising efforts to help the survivors of the Tulsa, OK, race massacre. <sup>42</sup> In 1930, Nettie spearheaded an effort to get a "Negro History Week" in local schools and would write numerous articles in the local newspapers on Black history into the 1950s. <sup>43</sup>, <sup>44</sup>

In 1935 and again in 1937, she helped organize protests against a measure in the state legislature outlawing interracial marriage. <sup>45</sup> She served as regional field secretary and later as local branch secretary of the NAACP. She helped establish branches in Seattle, Spokane, and Portland, OR, as well as cities in Canada and Alaska. In 1943, The Crisis, the official magazine of the NAACP, published an account of her achievements and listed her as one of the "First Ladies of Colored America." <sup>46</sup>

In 1961, she was honored for her music and her volunteer social work by 110 members of the TCACWC. The Asberry Cultural Club was named in her honor. <sup>47</sup> In 1970, Gov. Dan Evans dedicated the new Tacoma Association of Colored Women's Clubs building. Its music room, which houses her library and instruments, is named in her honor.

At the age of 101, Nettie left her beloved home of 63 years at 1219 North 13th Street, moving to a nursing home. She died two years later in 1968 at the age of 103 and is buried with Henry in Tacoma's Oakwood Hill Cemetery. <sup>48</sup> The following year, Mayor A. L. Rasmussen proclaimed May 11, 1969, as Nettie Asberry Day in Tacoma. <sup>49</sup> She has been furthered honored by MultiCare Health System with a bas-relief bust and plaque on the exterior wall at 410 Martin Luther King, Jr. Way and by the Old Town Business District with a sidewalk plaque at 2121 N. 30th Street.

Nettie Asberry's papers are held in Special Collections (Accession No. 1081-002) of the University of Washington Libraries, Seattle, WA. The Washington State Historical Society holds some additional Asberry artifacts, including the prize-winning Battenberg lace opera coat as well as Henry Asberry's collection shaving brushes and mugs that survived the Tacoma Hotel fire. In addition, the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Club holds books, music and other artifacts in its collection.

Grounds on Which Colored People Protest Against "The Birth of a Nation"

erroneous statements being circulated concerning the "Birth of a Nation."

Wherever this film has appeared in the north in cities where a certain number of colored people reside, a protest has been made against the showing of the film. A protest was made in Seattle by the Seattle branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, but there was no city ordinance against obscene and immoral shows, hence the protest was futile.

At Portland, where the books of Tom Dixon are not permitted in the city library, a rigorous protest was made. Letters were published in the Daily Oregonian and the Journal protesting against the film being shown. At Spokane a battle royal was fought over the film. The people were exercised there about the production of the film as they have never been exercised about anything else. The councilman who first permitted the film to show at Spokane, was by a rigorous campaign by the colored people, defeated at the polls for re-election.

Several weeks ago when the "Birth of a Nation" returned for a second per-

Editor Tacoma Ledger: At a recent mass meeting held at the African Methodist church by the colored citizens to protest against the production in Tacoma of the film, "The Birth of a Nation," the writer was elected the secretary of the meeting, and was instructed to write a letter to the press correcting erroneous statements being circulated concerning the "Birth of a Nation."

Wherever this film has appeared in the I had considered myself broad-minded.

plain Tom Dixon had deliberately lied to create prejudice against the black man. Why should the white Union army stand for such slander, perjury, libel?

I had considered myself broad-minded, free from prejudice, either as to race of religion, but my intelligence began to resent the circumtantial evidence that was slowly being woven around the white and colored heroes of the infamous play.

One cannot help resenting the approach of Gus the rapist upon the innocent Cameton girl. (Here is where Dixon-displays the method of his madness.) Her effort to escape—her leap over the precipice to her death below. Gus is given the character of a brute in human form. The, scenes that follow the tragedy are sad and impressive. The trial and execution of Gus is the natural outcome of the rape incident. The so-called smell scene is truly Dixonian. The library scene between Stoneman (Thaddeus Stevens) and his colored mistress, is unsavory. The entire scene of Lynch to force the hand of the daughter of his benefactor in marriage is outrageous. No such thing ever occurred, save in the fertile imagination of Tom Dixon—twin brother of Beelzebub. He was weaving a net of prejudice as artrully as a spider weaves his web to catch flies.

The effusive scenes of the colored men in the legislature fitted well into the plot of the black and white, of Aryan and frican radicals. The fape scene, the fliest property of the motorious clansmen, who now come galloping over the screen by the hundreds. Like a clap of thunder the applause breaks upon the car. My blood was at the white heat point. Instantly logan to hiss im my feeling of resentment at the series of infamous flex men but I had lost im my feeling of testentment at the series of infamous flex, but without avail; but happily the end was near and we filled out. Just an historical word about the Klu-Klux Klan. Not in all the eight hundred and thirty-two (S22) pages of testimony and argument in these York county cases is any crime against white women mentioned.

Quite in passing and as thou mistress, is unswory. The entire scene was by a rigorous campaign by the colored people, defeated at the poils for re-election.

Several weeks ago when the "Birth of a Nation" returned for a second performance the city council objected to discuss the property of the colored people, including the G. A. R. post. Provided among the better class of white people, including the G. A. R. post. Protest meetings were held all over the city by white, as well as colored people, including the G. A. R. post. During the first per-ormance of the film it was said the colored people were going to make a raid on the film manager of the theater where the film was being shown. It was said that the manager of the theater where the film was being shown. It was said that the manager of the theater where the film was being shown. Yes	Very supportive of the proposed historical district Having lived in Bothell, the moment we visited Tacoma's North End my wife & I instantly fell in love with the culture & architecture of the area. So much so that without knowing anyone in the are, we put our house on the market within 2 weeks of visiting North Tacoma for the first time. We were able to also find a home in the now College Park District as well shortly after. We love the old homes, the neighborhoods, the quieter streets. It just "feels" like home all around us. On the flip side I work in Seattle and have seen beautiful neighborhoods with historical significance filled with tear downs and modern homes popping up all over the place like a sore thumb. Not the mention the horrible traffic. I

I simply don't trust contractors coming in and building multi-dwelling family housing units that will add to the neighborhoods. I just don't see that kind of talent now days that will match what the craftsmen from the 10's, 20's and 1930's had will the type of building material that we now use. This is a BIGGEST reason we moved here. The historical feel of our neighborhood. I gave up a longer commute for it. If it just turns into modern homes and apartments then I might have well just stayed in suburbia Bothell. The north end is special for a reason. I greatly favor making College Park Historical District as part of the Tacoma Historical register.

When we are trying to build enough housing in our city, we should not be taking a big portion of some of the densest, most transit rich parts of our city away from development. Establishing an historic district here would not be in the best interests of either the city as a whole, or the residents of this neighborhood. The houses in the area are not particularly unique or different from homes elsewhere in Tacoma. Additionally, the North End is already home to an enormous historic district in the form of the North Slope. As Tacoma makes plans to accommodate the new residents and attendant growth that we expect over the next few decades, making even more of the North End off limits to growth and change sends a terrible message to the rest of the city. 				I think another historic district is a bad move for the city of Tacoma. We know that histo districts make it significantly more expensive to expand housing to cities by driving up remodeling cost and limiting the number of homes that can be built. Tacoma is in a mas housing shortage easily viewable through the incredible increase in home prices and the rampant homelessness throughout the city. Enacting more regulations making it harder home those people is a poor choice. 				I am afraid that the result will place financial burdens on the middle income families with kids that live in this neighbour hood as well as the rental properties. As an example window and siding replacement. The cost to replace with 'acceptable' windows or siding (eg no hardieplank or vinyl) means that many will not be able to make any changes. This push to 'protect' has mainly come from semi retired couples with dual income and few or no children. I worry that houses will be left to degrade because repair becomes too costly. I am concerned that young families will be pushed out of a neighborhood that has already become very expensive in the last few years. It concerns me that there armorers to be no clear guidelines on what will be permitted and what will not. I know people in the north slope who had to replace their windows in the dead of night! The window they were replacing was a seventies era 'upgrade' unseen from the street. They were being required to replace it with a wood window that was much more than they could afford. So they snuck it in under the radar. I don't want that kind of thing happening in our neighbour hood. Nobody love a vinyl window but sometimes that's all people can afford. And their current windows may be rotting out of their sills and be unsalvageable. I have personally rehabbed

		I reside near the proposed historic district,		Historical preservation districts can be a reflection of and further ingrain systemic racial inequalities. For instance: "in the case of New York City, as of 2014, less than 4 percent of lots across the city's five boroughs were regulated by the Landmarks Preservation Commission (IPC), though 27 percent of lots in Manhattan were IPC-regulated. Residents of historic districts across New York City tend to be wealthier, more educated, and more likely to be white, as are those who support designation of historic districts in New York" (https://www.arch.columbia.edu/books/reader/503-preservation-and-social-inclusion/freader-andor-01, Creating this historical preservation district would also run counter to city goals of greater density, walkability, and more affordable housing. 				I find it ironic that it is said to be an effort to preserve middle class life, when my experience of middle-class life is full of homes that are old, brand new, have vinyl windows, odd looking additions, folks of different incomes living side by side, and different house colors. The very movement to make it historic counters the idea of middle-class communities. Middle class families can't always remodel, replace windows to period or paint their houses a special approved color. For some tearing down and starting over is their way to a better home for a larger family or even building family wealth. It historically can raise prices and taxes. How will we adapt to a new reality if there is a greater carbon impact to maintain new rules or solar panels are not allowed where they can be seen, even at the cost efficiency. Historic designation will be a hamper to progress in Tacoma, by not sharing the impact evenly across all communities. All communities should support the growth Tacoma is going through, not a select few. It is debated that designations, in neighborhoods that are not all houses are from the historic period, have a similar impact like redlining. While there is historic value in many of the houses, there are many that don't fit the period all ready. You can do a walking tour and see the houses from the period if you like, and not have to restrict other's ability to change their houses. Leaving it alone will just continue the practice of a middle-class neighborhood and there will still be the period houses available to see. I wonder if the city has reviewed possible impacts. Taxes going up, other neighborhoods having to take on all the growth, elderly neighbors not being able to afford replacing windows and other repairs because of expenses, growing families not able to add an addition as their family grows, and other issues. I know when I saw the petition, it was "sign" this form to make the area a historic designation. It didn't bring up pros and cons. I choose not to sign a private citizen's post card on my view against it, but we did bring up questions when a representative came to our door. I noticed that wasn't recorded, only people who sent the group a written response. I bring this up because I don't believe that process is the only one that should occur. I request the city to do a thorough vetting of the pros and the cons of this proposal, with a focus on equity. I hope that the pros and cons are distributed in the community and

				Tacoma has a housing affordability crisis, we should not be putting in place restrictions that make existing homeowners more wealthy, while making new development, home additions, etc more complicated or costly. I've lived in this neighborhood for about 15 years - we are one of the most walkable & transit rich parts of the city with easy access to schools, jobs, restaurants, retail, etc this is exactly where we should be encouraging growth and affordable housing to prevent sprawl, reduce health disparities, and increase equity. I'm also concerned that historic districts are concentrated in Tacoma's north end, which has a deeply racist history of redlining, racially restrictive covenants, etc. The Landmarks Commission should not allow historic districts to be used as a tool to continue housing policies that

			-	Historic Districts are at best exclusionary and at worst deliberately racist. This particular application is an explicit effort to impair the City of Tacoma's housing and equity goals, formed in response to the needed Home in Tacoma zoning changes. According to the City's Equity Index, this is a High to Very High Opportunity neighborhood, and, in line with the City of Tacoma's racial equity and health in all policies declarations, should be made to be MORE inclusive, not less. As well, the applicant does a remarkable job of capturing the diverse range of single-family housing types within the proposed boundary, noting that the College Park district acts as an open time capsuledisplaying all the different cultural influences over the centuries. However, enshrining the current state of College Park as a Historic District would directly contradict and cut off that asset. They make the argument that the charm of the proposed district is its different housing types, while at the same time arguing that they and only they should get a say in what the next group of housing types should be. This is counter to the very nature of the neighborhood and would hold the current residents in stasis, the neighborhood growing stagnant. It is human nature to fear change, but a 13098452282 Marilyn Weber	1210 N Pine St	I own a home within the proposed district.	No	This proposed district is unnecessary and includes too many non historic houses.

				I am concerned about how the proposed historic district will affect property values and the additional expense and delay incurred to make any desired changes to my home. I am on a fixed income and am NOT looking for ways to increase my costs. I am not convinced that the benefits of having the historic district outweigh the negatives. It seems like the new historic district will essentially become one really large HOA. Also, I believe a lot of people who live in the proposed district incorrectly think its existence would prevent the city from implementing any changes as a result of any new zoning under the Home in Tacoma project.
				I also wonder why the proposed district isn't much bigger given the large number of older homes in the north end. My wife and I have lived in our home for almost 40 years and have not seen much change. So, my question is: What does the proposed district really add? Is

				We purchased our home in College Park 24 years ago and treasure the quaint single family houses the neighborhood is known for. The neighborhood character attracted us to the area. We don't care what people want to do to the back of their houses but support a review before the front of the houses are modified. We also do not support infilling with multiplexes that don't fit the size and character of the surrounding houses. Demolition of solid houses to build multiplexes should not be allowed. Allowing houses to fall into disrepair to skirt laws should be monitored. We previously owned a home in a historic district in Central Phoenix which today remains virtually unchanged even as the largest growing city in the US has boomed around it. It is considered a city treasure and appreciated by all. Tacoma has very few historic neighborhoods. Adding College Park as a historic neighborhood would prove that the city truly appreciates it's historic past and values the

- i) At a meeting(s) subsequent to the public hearing or special meeting, the Commission considers all oral and written testimony concerning the hearing item and acts to approve, disapprove, modify, or defer the decision-making until the completion of additional analyses.
- I. Open Public Meetings Act and E-mail Exchanges.

E-mail exchanges between members of the Commission can constitute a violation of the Washington State Open Public Meetings Act (OPMA), Chapter 42.30 RCW. Generally, if a majority of the members participate in an e-mail discussion of Commission business, the members are conducting a meeting in violation of the OPMA requirement that meetings must be "open to the public with prior notice." It is suggested that Commission members observe the following guidelines to avoid OPMA problems with e-mail exchanges:

1. When possible, limit e-mail exchanges on issues related to Commission business to less than a majority of Commission members. Sending copies of an e-mail to less than a majority may not suffice if subsequent exchanges relay the content of the original exchange to a majority of members.

- Never decide at an open meeting that a majority of the Commission will continue or complete discussion of an agenda item by e-mail.
- 3. One-sided (no response anticipated) informational e-mails to a majority or more of Commission members are probably consistent with the OPMA. In open meetings, the Commission members should verbally announce that they have sent this type of e-mail if it relates to the discussion at hand. Commission members are free to engage in e-mail exchanges with staff on one-sided e-mails, but not with each other.
- 4. E-mail exchanges on issues that the Commission will not address are consistent with the OPMA. However, if any reasonable chance exists that an issue relates to a vote that may or will come before the Commission, a majority of the Commission should not subject the issue to e-mail discussion.

Typically, this would include conditions imposed upon the approval, for which the Historic Preservation Officer is delegated to ensure satisfaction of those conditions.

SECTION 4: Enforcement Guidelines<sup>20</sup>

I. Overview

The City of Tacoma Historic Preservation Program administers the activities of the Landmarks Preservation Commission (LPC). Property inspections and code enforcement procedures concerning City Landmarks are administered by Planning and Development Services Department (PDS) and the Neighborhood and Community Services Department (NCS).

To coordinate the activities of the LPC and PDS/NCS staff, this set of guidelines is established. Enforcement actions and inspections specific to City Landmarks and historic districts are based on the following policies and principles:

- Fair and equitable enforcement is essential to achieve the intended purposes of the historic preservation ordinance.
- Violations of the historic preservation ordinance may threaten public safety, destroy or damage irreplaceable cultural artifacts, diminish property values, result in costly repairs and property damage, and diminish the quality of life for Tacoma residents.
- These guidelines are specific to violations of the historic preservation ordinance. However violations of the historic preservation ordinance may also violate applicable City of Tacoma building and land use codes, and may be enforced in concert with other City codes.
- 4. The goal of enforcement is to obtain compliance with the historic preservation ordinance. Fines and other mechanisms are a necessary means to achieve compliance and are not intended to be punitive or to collect revenue.
- 5. The highest enforcement priorities for the historic preservation ordinance are to stop situations and correct situations that threaten public safety or destroy or irreversibly alter historic properties.
- City Staff, including the Historic Preservation Officer and Inspection and Code Enforcement staff consider program priorities and resources when responding to enforcement requests. Not every minor violation of the historic preservation ordinance warrants enforcement action.

 Building Inspectors exercise judgement and discretion in taking enforcement action. Inspectors may issue verbal direction, notice of violation, notice of infraction, or stop work as appropriate to the situation.

II. Enforcement Priorities

HIGH PRIORITY

- Demolition, in whole or in substantial part, of a historic property.
- 2. Non-reversible alterations of original features or finishes to a historic property, such as sandblasting or removal of original masonry.
- Substantial alteration or removal of important architectural and character defining elements of a property, such as porches, stairs, windows, wholesale siding removal, chimney demolition, and removal of other distinctive detailing.
- Structural alterations, such as removal or relocation of walls and additions, and the addition of exterior structural elements such as decks.
- Inspections requested by the Historic Preservation Officer.
- Any building code violation determined to be a high priority by the Building Inspector.

NORMAL PRIORITY

- Work that is completed at the time of complaint receipt.
- Work underway that involves "in kind" replacement or repair of decorative elements, such as spot replacement of existing siding, repairs to trim, sills, flashing, that will not affect exterior appearance at the conclusion of the project.
- Minor alterations on secondary building elevations (not prominently visible from a public right of way) that do not compromise the structural or historical integrity of the property (excluding window and door replacement that is underway).
- 4. Fences and other sitework not prominently visible from the public right of way, or not physically affecting the primary structure on the site.
- 5. Minor reversible decorative alterations.
- 6. Non-structural alterations to garages.
- Changes in content to existing signs, or installation of freestanding signs that are not mounted on a permanent structure.

&lt;sup>20</sup> Amended 12/09/09

III. General Procedures for Enforcement of High Priority Violations

- Requests for inspections that involve items in the high priority category should receive a site visit by the Building Inspector as soon following the receipt of complaint as possible.
- 2. Following inspection, if it is determined that the project appears to meet one or more of the project descriptions in the High Priority category, the Building Inspector, using his or her discretion, shall take the appropriate corrective action.
- 3. If the project is determined to fall into the Normal Priority category, the Inspector, at his or her discretion, may refer the matter to the Historic Preservation Officer for further action, may provide verbal direction to the property owner to contact the historic preservation officer, or may elect to take other corrective action (including a Stop Work Order) as determined appropriate.

IV. General Procedures for Normal Priority Violations

- Complaints and reports received by the City that appear to fall into the Normal Priority category may be referred by NCS or PDS directly to the Historic Preservation Officer for further action.
- The Historic Preservation Officer will typically contact the property owner via Certified and First Class Mail, or if appropriate and possible, contact the owner in person, on the phone or via email. If appropriate, Historic Preservation Staff may conduct a site inspection.
- If the Historic Preservation Officer, upon investigating the complaint, believes a Stop Work Order is appropriate, he or she may refer the complaint back to PDS or NCS and request inspection.
- 4. If appropriate, the Historic Preservation Officer will work with the property owner to gain proper approvals from the Landmarks Preservation Commission, via the procedures outlined in TMC 13.07.
