

INFORMATION REGARDING NOTICE TO INCREASE RENT

The City of Tacoma is supplying this information sheet to assist tenants with understanding this notice. This information sheet is informative only and DOES NOT provide legal advice regarding your individual tenancy. If you need to obtain legal advice regarding your individual tenancy, please contact the resources listed on the back of this page.

What is a Notice to Increase Rent?

This notice informs a tenant that the landlord is increasing the amount of monthly rent that a tenant must pay to continue living in the rental unit.

How Much Time Does a Tenant Have Before Paying the Increased Rent?

Effective December 8th, 2023 the City of Tacoma will have two Rent Increase notice provisions in place. The Rental Housing Code (TMC 1.95) requires a landlord to provide a tenant at least a 120-day written notice before the rent increase takes effect. The Landlord Fairness Code Initiative (TMC 1.100) requires two separate notices before increasing rent. The first notice must be served between 210 and 180-days and a reminder notice between 120 and 90-days before any increase in rent becomes effective. This means that if a landlord fully complies with the Initiative provisions, by sending the first notice between 210 and 180-days in advance of the rent increase, a landlord will also have met the requirements of the City's Rental Housing Code (requiring at least a 120 days' notice).

What Other Information Must a Landlord Provide a Tenant About the Rent Increase?

The notice of rent increase must include the amount of new rent owing, the percentage the rent is increasing, and the date on which the increase becomes effective. The Initiative, outlined in TMC 1.100.050, also requires the notice to include a description of the rental relocation assistance program and how the relocation assistance payment will be calculated, if applicable.

What If the Landlord Does Not Comply with Rent Increase Notice Requirements?

If a landlord does not comply with the requirements for rent increase notices, the City of Tacoma can enforce on violations where the landlord does not serve at least a 120-day written notice of rent increase, as outlined in the Rental Housing Code, TMC 1.95. However, a tenant would have to take private civil action for violations of the notice requirements under the Landlord Fairness Code Initiative, TMC 1.100.

What If a Tenant Fails to Pay the Increase Rent Amount?

A tenant served with a valid notice of rent increase must pay the new amount unless the tenant has a valid legal reason not to pay the increased rent. If the notice is valid and the tenant does not have a legal defense to not pay the increase, the landlord may serve a notice to pay rent or vacate.

What If a Tenant Disagrees with the Amount of the Rent Increase?

A tenant may have a legal reason to not pay an increase in rent. If a tenant disagrees with a rent increase, it is important to contact the resources listed at the end of this information sheet and speak with a housing attorney.
