CATINA PATTON

My name is Catina Patton, I was born in Bremerton, WA and had the greatest experience as a child of an Airforce father traveling the United States and overseas to England. I have 3 beautiful children, 1 grandson, and love the great outdoors.

I own and operate a General Contracting Company (PNW Diverse Solutions, LLC) and a Consulting Business (PNW Diverse Consulting, LLC) they are both certified as a WBE/DBE business. As a GC business owner, I have had to go through the difficulties of contracting as a WBE/DBE business which gave me the passion and commitment to becoming more involved in DEI related activities as a consultant.

I currently sit on the Washington State Project Review Committee and represent the MBE/WBE businesses. Taking time to connect with my communities and make meaningful contributions through DEI aspirations is not just my career but is also in my personal life goals. I feel blessed to be a part of the City of Tacoma's Equity in Contracting Committee and promise to put my best foot forward!
