

ARMORY

The Tacoma Armory was completed in 1908. Serving as a training facility and arms storage for the Washington State National Guard, it was also a social hub for the city. The Armory hosted parties and galas, sports events, concerts, and exhibitions. It is now home to Tacoma Arts Live.

HARMON LOFTS

Built in 1909 and designed by a prominent Tacoma architect, Carl Darmer, this was the F. S. Harmon Manufacturing Company's building. Harmon Brewing and Harmon Lofts opened here in 1997, serving as a catalytic historic rehabilitation project for Tacoma.

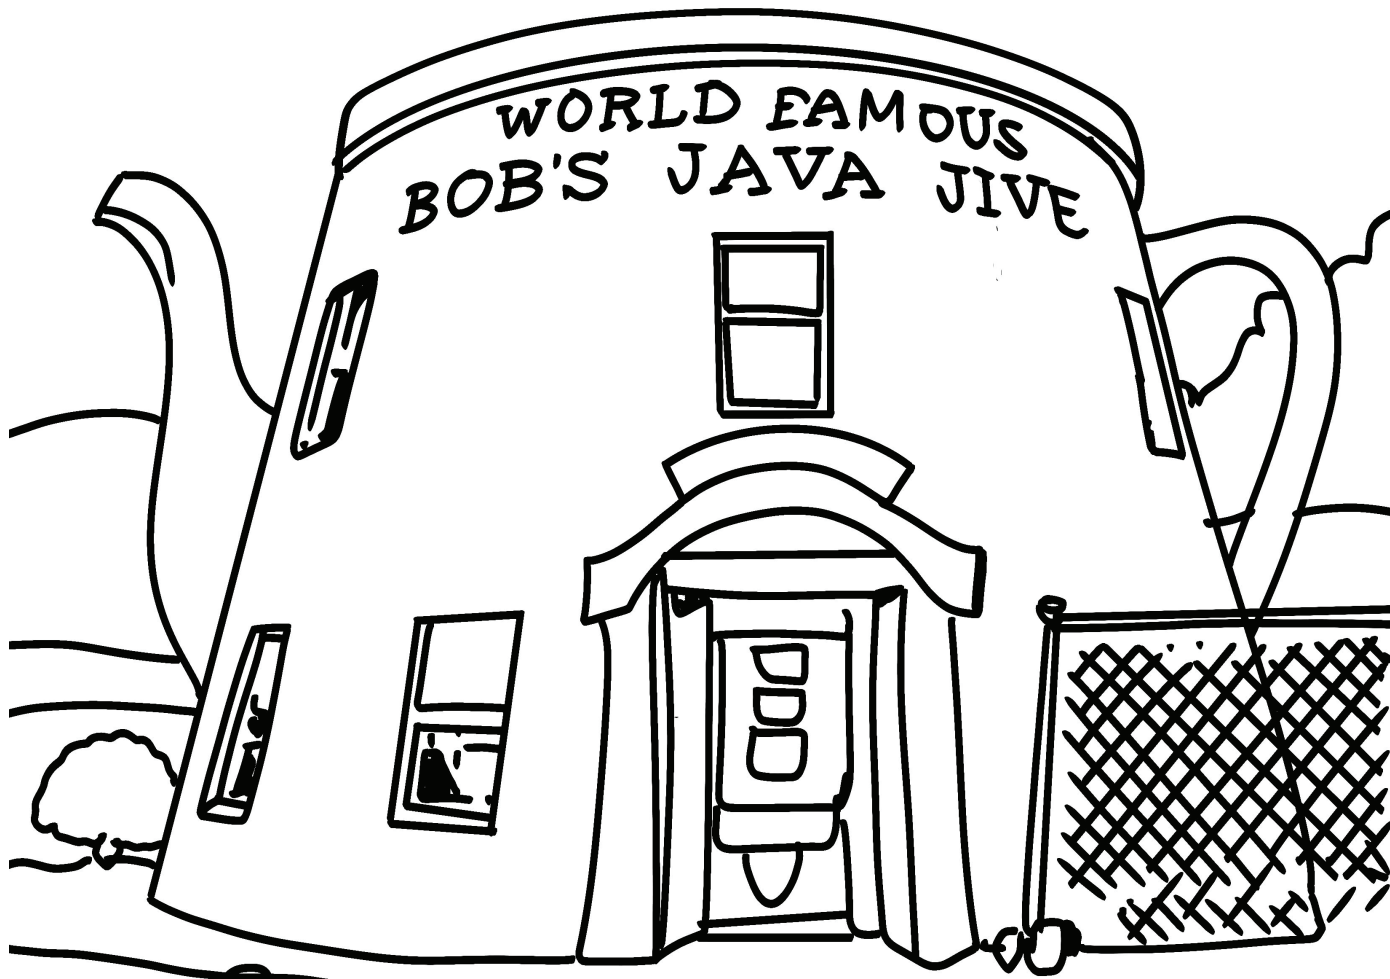

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL

Construction for Lincoln High School began in 1913, with classes starting in September 1914. The famous Lincoln Bowl opened in the 1940s, and Elvis Presley performed here in 1957. A massive renovation with new additions in 2007 expanded the school but preserved many of the historic elements.

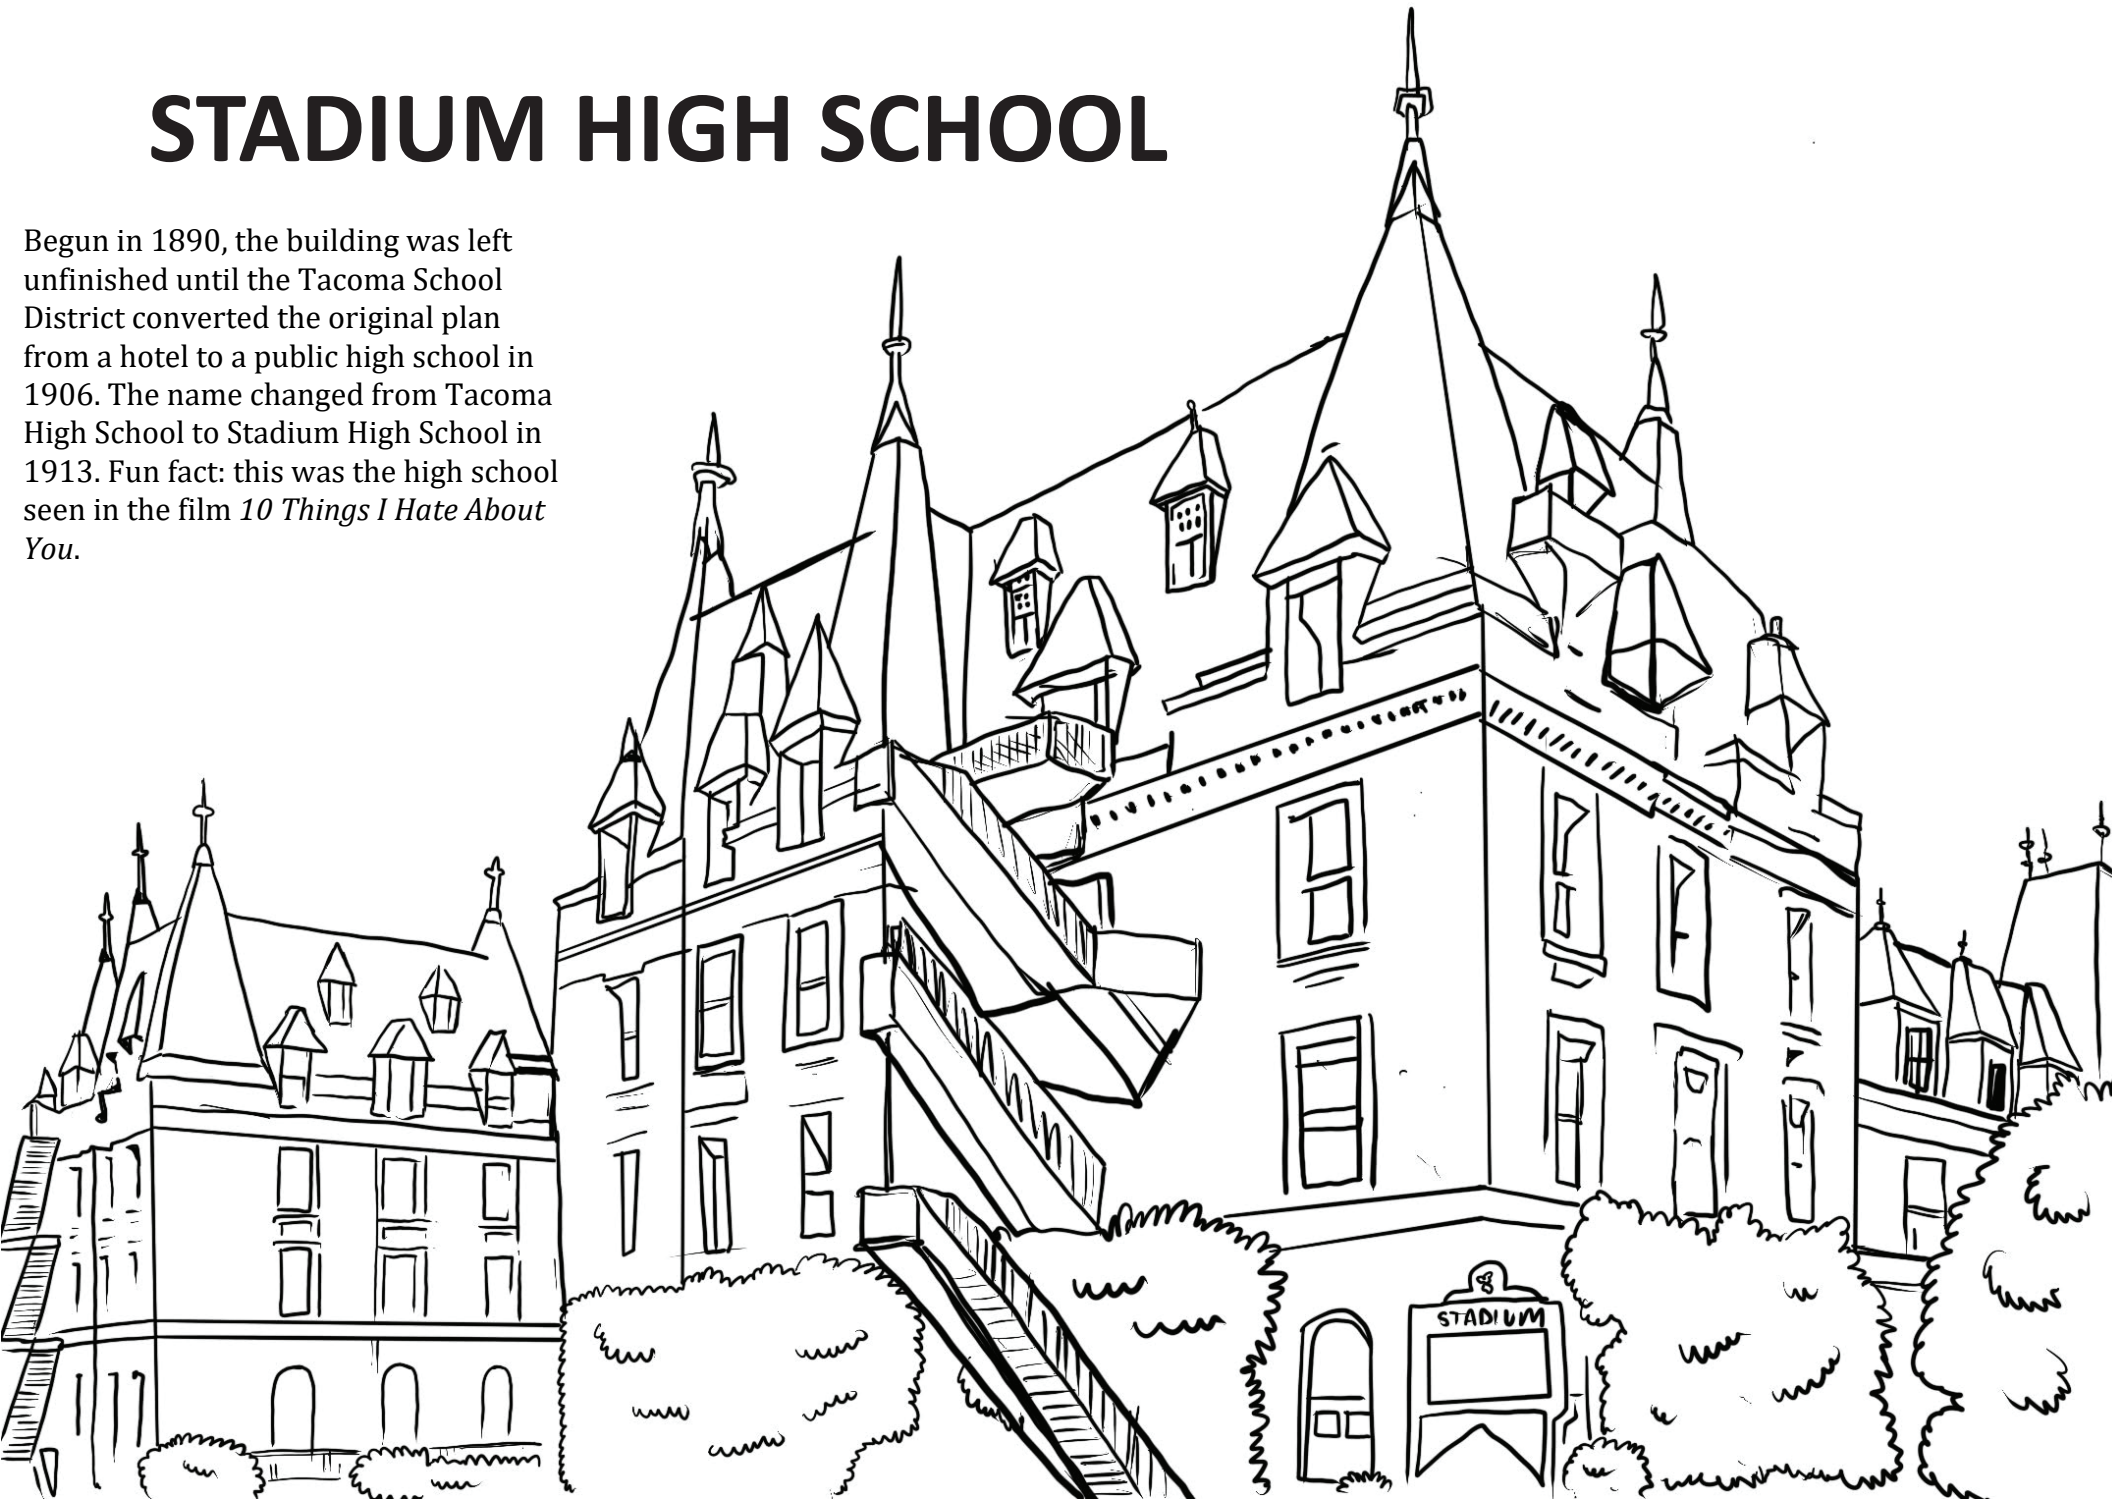

BOB'S JAVA JIVE

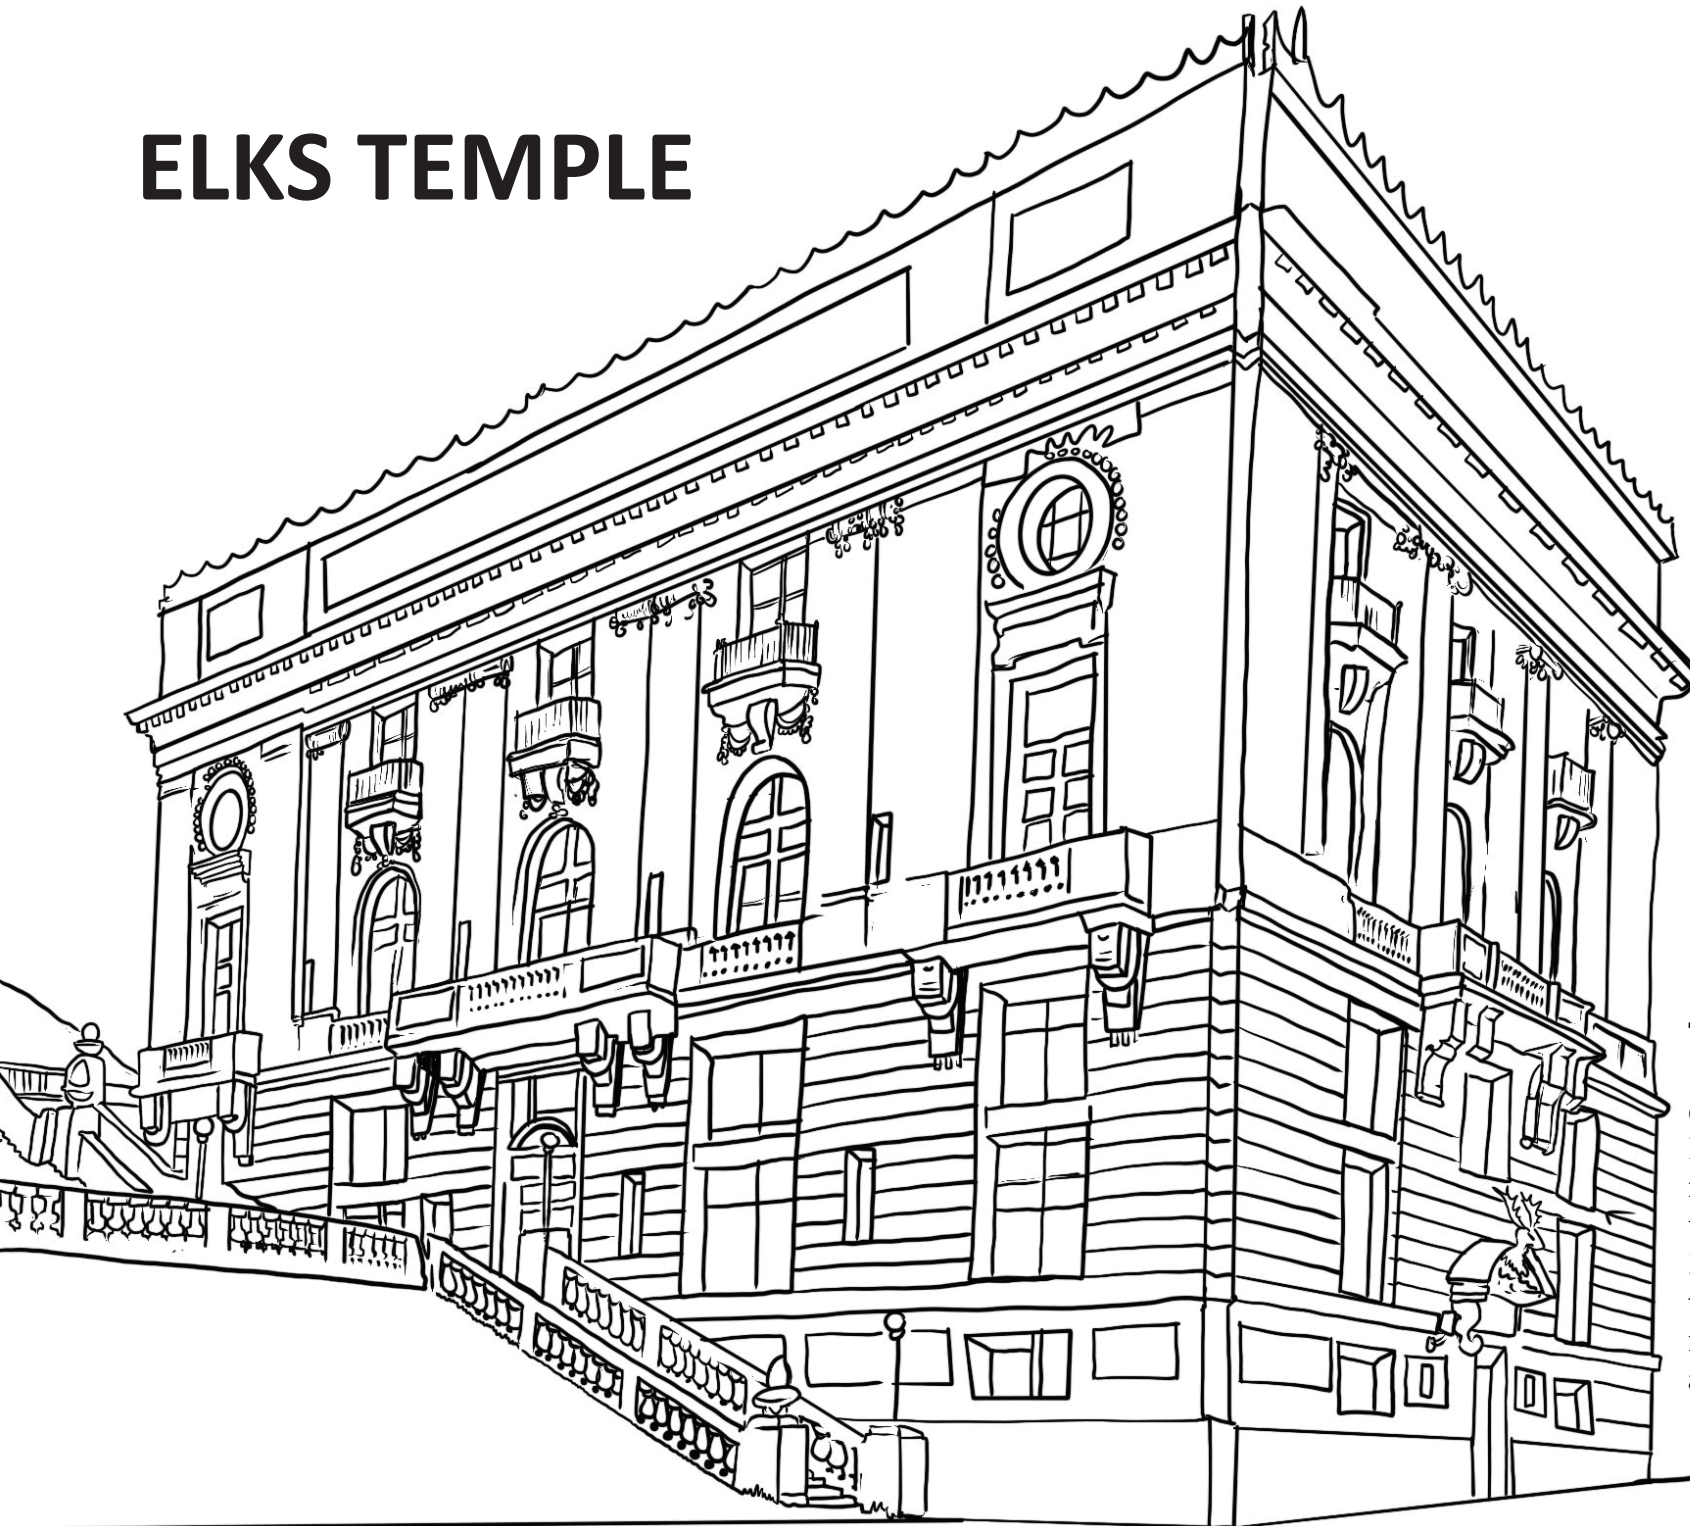

Bob's Java Jive is nearly 100 years old, built in 1927. This coffee pot-shaped building (not to be mistaken with a teapot) was renamed from the Coffee Pot Restaurant to Bob's Java Jive in the 1950s and has served as an iconic restaurant, bar, and music venue.

STADIUM HIGH SCHOOL

Begun in 1890, the building was left unfinished until the Tacoma School District converted the original plan from a hotel to a public high school in 1906. The name changed from Tacoma High School to Stadium High School in 1913. Fun fact: this was the high school seen in the film 10 Things I Hate About You.

ELKS TEMPLE

The Elks Temple was built in 1916 for the Fraternal Order of Elks. By 1965, the Elks Lodge relocated, leaving their first building open for new uses for the community. In 2007, McMenamins bought the building and began renovations to convert it into a hotel and restaurant.
